

PRESIDENT AT BEVERLY FOR SUMMER

Small Crowd at Station to Greet Him on His Arrival

PAYS HOSPITAL VISIT

To Inquire About Injured Italian Who Was Run Down by Son's Motor Car.

Beverly, Mass., June 29.—Wearing the famous "Taft smile" President Taft stepped off the parlor car Colonial at Montserrat station today on his first visit to Beverly since he left here last September on his memorable western tour. Fifteen seconds after he stepped across the concrete walk to his own car, which had arrived just one minute before with his son Charlie occupying the front seat with the chauffeur.

"Hello, Charlie," was the president's salute. While Charlie was telling his father he was feeling fine, the president popped another question, "Everybody well?" he asked. Charlie replied that everybody at the summer white house was enjoying life. As he asked the question the president took Charlie's brown face between his hands and kissed him. Capt. Archibald Butt, the president's military aide, and the president's secretary, Chas. D. Norton, both stepped into the car. The president wore a comfortable blue serge suit with a white vest and a straw sailor hat. The party drove from Montserrat station to the summer white house, where there was a family reunion. With Mrs. Taft the president rode to the hospital to inquire about the Italian who was run down by his son Robert's motor car and was especially grateful to hear that he was on the high road to recovery.

There was a crowd of about 100 people to greet the president when he stepped into his car at the station. Somebody started a handclap. The president lifted his hat and smiled, the cameras clicked and everybody looked happy.

This afternoon President Taft planned to motor to the Myopia links, where he will golf with John Hays Hammond. Tonight Dr. Miller of Boston, who attended the Italian hurt by Robert's auto, will be his dinner guest.

AIRSHIP WRECKED IN FOREST

Zeppelin's Big Craft Now Lies a Mass of Wreckage

RESTING ON TREE TOPS

Passengers Escaped After Perilous Voyage Attaining Height of 4,000 Feet.

Dusseldorf, Germany, June 29.—Count Zeppelin's passenger airship, Deutschland, the highest developed of all the aeronaut's models, lies today on top of the Teutoburgian forest, pierced with pine tree stems, a mass of deflated silk and twisted aluminum. The 33 persons aboard, after a wild contest with a storm, escaped uninjured, climbing down a rope ladder from the wreck on the pine tops.

Herr Colesmann, general manager of the airship company, Chief Engineer Duerr, of the Zeppelin Company, and Captain Kannenberg, who personally had charge of the crew of 10 and 20 newspaper men, sailed from Dusseldorf at 6:30 yesterday morning for a three hours' excursion. The objective point was Dornmund, about 35 miles from Dusseldorf, but a high head wind prevailed and an effort was made to reach Munster, a garrison town, so that a landing might be made on the parade ground by the aid of the soldiers. It was realized that it would require a large number of them to hold the vast contrivance of silk and metal against the wind.

It was dangerous to attempt a landing in an open field because of the storm, as the metal was likely to pound to pieces. In a high wind one of the motors refused to work and the other two were not powerful enough to make any progress in the gale.

The airship drifted, swaying in the violent gusts, sometimes leaning to an angle of 40 degrees, and all the while the engineers were at work repairing the disabled motor. When this was done all four screws were driven at their full power, under which, in normal conditions, the airship was capable of attaining a speed of 40 miles an hour. But the helmsman was unable to keep his course, and the great craft was swung about at the mercy of the winds.

Colesmann did not dare to turn the ship around for fear of overturning, and he decided to drift in the gale, which was blowing at the rate of 50 miles an hour toward Osnabruck, which also is a garrison station. If he missed that he would continue on to Senne.

Suddenly he perceived a whirlwind coming and ascended to a height of nearly 4,000 feet to avoid the worst of it. With the whirlwind came an avalanche of rain. After half an hour the Deutschland came down to permit of observation, and it was seen that the Teutoburgian forest lay below. The forward motor was stopped and Colesmann sent five gondolas to ballast the craft.

The Deutschland sank rapidly, having lost much gas in the high altitudes, and dragged along the top of the dense forest. A heavy branch of a tree broke through the floor of the cabin amidships, throwing two of the guests to the floor. Other branches ripped through the gas compartments and the whole great structure settled down 30 or 40 feet from the ground.

The district governor and his wife with first aid to the injured material, arrived at the scene within half an hour by special train. A company of infantry was sent from Osnabruck and picked the wreckage. The disaster took place at 5:30 in the evening.

OPINIONS DIFFER ON THE FIGHT

Jeffries is Favorite, However, With Odds of 10 to 6 1-2

RENO IS MECCA FOR ALL

Nevada Town Rapidly Filling With Cream of the Sporting World and Railroads are Worried.

(By Max Bahtsalar.)

Jeffries Training Quarters, Moana Springs, Reno, June 29.—"I think Jeffries will rush and clean up in two or three rounds."

"No, he won't. He'll feed out the black yellow for seven or eight rounds, taking a good beating in the meantime, and as soon as he finds that the negro is becoming discouraged because his punches are doing no damage, then he'll sail in and finish things up."

"Why should he wait? Why should he hold back and let the negro cut him to pieces. All Jeffries has to do is to stick out his chin let Johnson drive his hardest and when the champion finds that the wickedest blow he has in stock cannot down his opponent, Johnson will be pie."

"Nothing like that. Johnson is too clever. He can stall around for an almost unlimited number of rounds and it will simply resolve itself into a question of endurance. If Jeffries is there as good as he is when he works, there will be nothing to it. I figure that under these conditions Johnson will last about 30 rounds."

And so on ad infinitum.

Whether a bunch of fans of the Jeffries persuasion, be they mere mounds of personal opinion or mounds of public opinion and that's the sort of talk you will hear. Jeffries will win, one round, six rounds, fifteen rounds, twenty rounds, or thirty rounds. Never has opinion as to the duration of a big fight been so varying with the ultimate so certainly fixed in the minds of the judges. Even in Jeffries camp the picking of rounds is as widely at variance as the selection of the winning number on the roulette tables that one may discover with a little effort and the aid of the cappers.

To those with merely superficial knowledge of what a boxer should do, the work of the big fellows is quite a puzzle. Jeff is floating too much, they think, unmindful of the vast amount of labor he has gone through. In the other hand they think Johnson is digging in too hard, forgetting that he has not applied himself until within the past few weeks.

The many unusual training phases of this contest are enough to put the sternest conditioning mathematician to the bad. Jeffries passes the word that he is going to work his head off instead he lies around the chairs in the morning and winds up the day with a little joust with the trout. Johnson programmed to loaf tears into his work like a colored brother trying to depopulate the entire chicken world. It's a funny game from any angle and many dopesters will be surprised when the battle ends on Monday.

In other ways the fighters show strange contrasts from day to day. One day Johnson shows speed and confidence. The next day he appears to be half-hearted in temperament as well as in work. Jeff never loses confidence, in fact he seems to gain

(By E. C. Hall)
Chillicothe, June 29.—Some warm battle for the cedar championship was waged at League park yesterday afternoon, the Babes jumping to the next to the last rung of the Ohio State ladder only after the hardest kind of a fight with the peppy Molders, it requiring ten hard fought innings before the question of whose name should appear in the last berth was finally settled. But the Babes, who have been hitting a terrible clip for the past two weeks, finally won out, the trick being turned by means of a couple of bingles, a sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly in one compact bunch.

Big Ed Lafollette was sent to the kopie by Riehl and to oppose him Manager Kibler sent calm, cool Hiram Grandie to the firing line. Through ten long innings the battle waxed warmer and warmer as it progressed and from start to finish it was a pitchers' fight, Lafollette being unlucky in having the hits bunched on him in the last fatal spasm. All you have to do is to warble softly five hits each to convey the idea that it was a real pitchers' battle and no stall. That red top piece of lead who did the mound work for the visitors did not seem to have much, as he was hit rather hard, but the best the Babe choppers could do was to line them straight into the hands of one of the waiting helpmates. Grandie, like Lafollette, was effective throughout, especially in pinches. Once during the game, in the sixth inning, the Molders seemed about to score, but Hiram tightened up the screws and nothing looking like a runner progressed farther than the middle field. Lafollette led off by striking out, but Kendall and Meyers swatted safely right in succession. At this critical moment a hit would have won the game, but that particular bingle was never chalked up against the Leesburg boy's delivery, for the next two were easy outs, Riehl skying to the central garden and Franken winding up by whiffing.

Right off the jump in the tenth Mr. Lafollette was put in a hole when Irwin pinched off a safe crack, and he sank deeper into the mire when Dewitt followed suit, beating out an infield hit. Potts sacrificed each man up a notch and Irwin came under the wire with the winning run on Whalen's long sacrifice fly to center. The following is the box score:

Behind the Screen

That was a tough game to drop to Chillicothe yesterday, and by its loss the Molders slipped again into last place. Maybe our stay there will be just as short this time as it was last. Here's hoping, anyway.

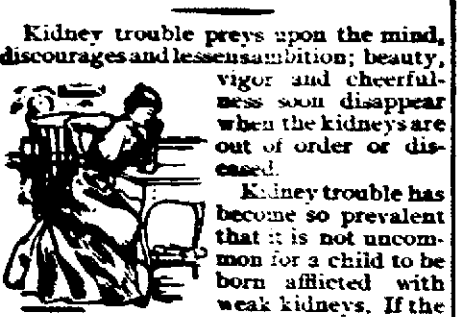

The Chillicothe fans are just about candidates for the toothen factory in Columbus, for since their team has struck a winning streak they are absolutely happy. Well, baseball is a new thing to that city and wait until the race tightens up and grows more and more interesting—then they will be glad that they secured a place in the league lineup.

Third Baseman Shuler who was released by Chillicothe to Lima has been turned admit by that club. Shuler showed a flash of form that should last.

Catcher Jimmie Welsh of Lancaster was called to Columbus, Monday, by telegram conveying the sad news of the death of his mother.

The Molders and Babes are playing a double header this afternoon and the Riehl gang will get all they want of Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

When before they get home, for in every town that they visit there is from one to three postponed games.

The deal for Nally of Dayton has fallen through. It was expected that he could be secured from Dayton, but Manager Punch Knott of that city sent him to East Liverpool without notifying Toledo.

Ive Whitten has been forced to leave the Columbus Senators and go to a Columbus hospital to have an operation performed on his foot which he recently injured.

If ever an infielder broke into a game and got away had it was Lohr at Lancaster yesterday. A brother of the famous Hans of Red fame, he joined the Lanks and out of eight chances he spilled five of them.

McClintock in the game got four hits and altogether the team bumped Cheney's offerings 16 times. Zmich of Marion held the Portsmouth hitters to two hits in the game he pitched.

Rain postponed playing in the Ohio State league Monday, and another double header has been added to the long list. The suggestion is being made to lengthen the season another week in order that the teams will not have so many double headers. Double headers is a league where but four pitchers are carried work a hardship, and especially in cases where one of the twirlers is disabled. Marion has three postponed games to play here with Newark, which team is scheduled for a double header here Monday and is here Tuesday. It is likely that a double header will also be played on this day.—Marion Mirror.

According to reports from Newark, big league scouts are after Kendall, the Molders' star center fielder. Jack is due to go up this year as he is certainly one swell ball player. Newark should get $1500 for Kendall—Lancaster Eagle.

An action for $452.50 judgment against the Marion club was begun in that town Monday by Daniel W. Murphy, one of the owners of Webb Park. He alleges that the amount is due him for ground rent and asks that a receiver be appointed. No receiver was named as the matter will probably be settled out of court.

In Woman's Realm

Miss Anna Inez Korb, delightfully entertained a few of her friends at her home Monday evening in honor of her fourteenth birthday anniversary. The rooms were decorated with red roses and ferns, and the evening was spent in the dining room, where Miss Korb and Mr. Robert Jones received the prizes.

At a late hour a delicious two-course luncheon was served and delightfully hand-painted place cards, the work of the hostess, seated the guests as follows: Elizabeth Davis, Mary Mary Carl, Ruth Hirst, Mary Sherr, Mary M. Woodward, Ruth Robinson, Ella Ross, Olive Baughman, Daisy Stuman, Marie Bell, Betty, and Frances Shaw of Zanesville. Messrs. Robert Jones, Harold Shannon, Harold Hirst, Richard Stevens, Dale Warner, Raymond Crawford, O. C. and Ernest Rich, Leland Korb, Paul Vernon, Goldard Chase, Herschel Steinhilber and Carlton Sauer of Luray. The guests departed at a late hour, having spent a most enjoyable evening, and wishing the hostess many more happy birthdays.

Last Friday, June 24, was a gala day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Cully in Hoboken. Before the noon hour Mr. and Mrs. James Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lawver drove to the house and they were soon joined by Mr. and Mrs. T. M. White, and Mr. S. H. Rosebaugh and family. A fine dinner was served and a pleasant social time enjoyed. In the evening thirty-five ladies called and the event was duly celebrated with the serving of delicious refreshments and a pleasant evening passed.

The Tuesday Euchre club had as its hostess this week Mrs. W. W. Mahlem of Hudson avenue and three tables of players enjoyed the game, which was followed by the awarding of prizes to the fortunate contestants. Mrs. W. H. Knauss was a guest of the club.

Misses Inez Longworth, Mae Doyle, Freda Norris, Hazel Phillips, Sadie Jenkins and Miss Mary Templeton of Chubbville, Chaperoned by Mrs. Port E. Gibson and Mrs. Will Diehl will leave Friday morning for Buckeye Lake, where they will occupy the Gibson Cottage for a delightful outing at this popular resort. —Guerney Times.

Seven o'clock this evening at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Riggs, 124 North Seventh street, will occur the marriage of Miss Alice Riggs and Mr. Charles B. Warlen, both well known young people of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Warlen will leave at once on a short wedding tour.

A pretty wedding marked with simplicity was that of Miss Alice Louise Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Young, of 173 North Fourth street and Mr. John Tordeila celebrated with a mass in St. Francis de Sales church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock by Rev. B. M. O'Boylan in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends. The young people were unaccompanied and entered the church at the appointed hour to the strains of the wedding march. The ceremony, played by Miss Carmey and during the ceremony strains of sweet music were heard and a solo was sung by Mr. Louis Kureth. Miss Young looked charming in a white bonnet gown lavishly trimmed with Marquise lace and she wore a white lace hat ornamented with willow branches. Over her arm was thrown a shower of bride's roses and asparagus fern.

Following the service a wedding breakfast was served to the members of the family at the home of the bride's parents. The guests were seated in the dining room by means of dainty place cards at one large table, which was as its centerpiece a huge basket of pink carnations and asparagus, and strands of garlands covered its snowy surface. The parlors were artistically decorated with ferns, carnations and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Tordeila left at an early hour Wednesday afternoon for Detroit, from where they will start over the Great Lakes, their trip covering a period of two weeks. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in a cozy home which they have previously furnished at 57 Granville street. The bride's going away gown was fashioned of blue tulle with harmonizing accessories.

Mrs. Tordeila is a young woman who numbers her friends by her acquaintances. For her personal charms as well as her accomplishments, are numerous. She is a graduate of the Newark High school in the class of '05. The groom has been a resident of the city for the past five years, and during that time has won the esteem and friendship of all who know him. He holds the position of division engineer for the B. & O. railroad at this point Mrs. Tordeila, the groom's mother, of Meadville, Pa., was the only out of town guest present at the wedding.

LOVEJOY-THOMAS.

In the presence of a number of relatives and friends Miss Isabelle Thomas Tuesday morning became the wife of Mr. Allen F. Lovejoy, a prominent business man of Janesville, Wis. The ceremony, the beautiful home of the Thomases in Oakwood village, was simply but artistically decorated for the wedding. Daisies were chosen as the flowers of the wedding, and the palms and ferns were starred with these blossoms. Just before half past nine, the hour set for the ceremony, Miss Anne Davis and Miss Helen Kittredge sang "Oh, Perfect Love." Dr. Maurice E. Wilson of the First Presbyterian church, took his place in the large hall in front of the bay window, here the bride and groom took their places and pledged their troth. Miss Thomas was gloriously beautiful in her wedding gown of white chiffon over tulle, the same dress her mother wore when she was married many years ago. She wore a long veil of finest tulle and carried an armful of bride roses. Miss Julia Lovejoy, a sister of the groom, was the only attendant. Mr. Steve Lovejoy was his brother's best man. A season of felicitations followed the nuptial blessing and a buffet breakfast was served before the bride and groom left for the east, to spend several weeks before going to Janesville to make their home among the friends of the groom.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harrington Davis and daughter, Linda Rogers Davis, and Miss Anne Davis of Newark.—Dayton Herald.

Mrs. Lovejoy possesses many friends in this city, made upon her numerous visits with her sister, Mrs. C. H. Davis of Pearl street.

ELOPERS RETURN FROM KENTUCKY

Because her parents objected to her marriage on account of her age, Mary Welsh, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Welsh, of near Croton, and Howard Frazer, a farmer living near Lock, eloped to Kentucky Friday and were married.

Frazer is 29 years of age and had been acquainted with the girl he made his wife about a month. It was love at first sight with them, but her parents objected to Frazer simply on account of their daughter's age. It was the old, old story, and the love of the young people developed rapidly under the difficulty.

Finally the elopement was carefully planned and Friday morning they started for Kentucky, where they were married. They returned home Monday and the forgiveness of Mrs. Frazer's parents was easily obtained. The young couple have now gone to Lock to visit Mr. Frazer's parents.

Great bargains will be given on all trimmed hats this week at House & Shawmaker's, 42 Hudson Ave. 28-31-6wk

And now the American-Tribune comes forward with an entirely new claim as to who deserves the credit for the additional appropriation for the Newark postoffice. The credit is not due to Senator Scott of West Virginia, at all, according to the A. T.'s revised and latest claim. Col. George B. Cox Hamilton, if you please, deserves the honor, and the A. T. is simply delighted to exploit it. The Colonel spent three solid months of his valuable time in Washington, at his own expense, hypnotizing the leading stand-pat statesmen of the nation, and that is how it all came about.

KNOWN TO ALL

Governor Harmon has expressed his entire willingness to be judged by his record in his campaign for re-election. Several weeks ago the machine serving Republican newspapers in Ohio shouted in cheers that the issue in Ohio this fall could be stated in a single line that should be memorized by every voter in the state, and which could not be evaded or side-stepped. That line was put in the form of a question as follows: "What has Harmon done?"

In his speech at Dayton, accepting renomination Governor Harmon hunkled back that challenge in these words: "What the present administration has done and tried to do is known to all and the question is shall it be approved or condemned?" Memorize that also.

You see that Governor Harmon is not afraid to have his record scrutinized by the people of Ohio. In fact he invites it. He is not like some former state officials in the recent history of his state. The governor put it well when he said, "what the present administration has done and tried to do is known to all," not is there the slightest prospect that it will be condemned at the polls. The people of Ohio are now well satisfied with the agreeable experience of having a real governor in the governor's office.

READY ON BOTH PROPOSITIONS

President Taft hoped that the rats of Ohio were afraid to discuss national issues in the campaign. This year he must have been sorely disappointed when he read the platform adopted at Dayton. Not only are Ohio Democrats, with Judson Harmon at their head, and every Democratic candidate for congressman willing to discuss national issues, they welcome it. But they do not propose to lose sight of important state affairs which immediately concern the people of Ohio in the campaign before them. Neither does Governor Harmon intend to be rushed off his feet by any kind of manufactured whirlwind that may be started to draw attention away from those important home affairs which he says "are now the chief concern of our citizens," and on which he declares the election of state officers will turn. "I shall refuse to be drawn away from these," said Governor Harmon in his acceptance speech.

The campaign in Ohio this year, therefore, will have to do not only with "what has Harmon done," but also with what President Taft has NOT done—but President Taft's case will be attended to finally in 1912, after Judson Harmon finishes his house cleaning at Columbus.

BILLS PASSED BY CONGRESS.

Review of Work of That Body During the Past Session.

SUCCESS OF THE PRESIDENT.

Practically Taft's Entire Legislative Program Went Through—Side Lights on Some of the Most Important Measures—The Investigations to Continue.

Washington, June 29. A dispassionate review of the work of congress must emphasize these facts: That President Taft has procured practically his entire legislative program, including the railroad bill, the postal savings bank bill, the statehood bill, two conservation bills, the tariff board appropriation and the campaign publicity bill, and that the insurgents have materially modified the house rules, have radically amended the railroad bill and have virtually forced the retirement of Cannon from the speakership and of Aldrich and Hale from the senate. The upshot of the whole matter is that with the president and with the insurgents rests the victory.

Stock Regulation.
Taking the leading measures in the order of their importance, the railroad bill has only been so fully described in these reports that further detailed description is unnecessary. One notable feature of the measure that has not been sufficiently dwelt upon, however, is that creating a commission to inquire into the watering of stocks and stock regulation. It is practically certain that with this as a lever the president will insist on further legislation on this line before his term of office is ended. It is fair to add that on all sides the new railroad law is regarded as a distinct improvement on the old. The insurgents claim credit for this, stating that the bill as drafted by Attorney General Wickersham was a step backward. However that may be, the law as it stands today is generally looked upon as an advance.

A New Departure.
The postal savings bank bill as finally passed was subject to bitter attacks on the claim that it would divert money from local communities into Wall street. It was admitted, however, that as originally drafted the bill was even more open to this charge, several subsequent restrictions having been placed about it. Postal savings banks are a new departure in America, and the experiment will be watched with intense interest.

Publishing Campaign Funds.
The campaign publicity bill relates only to congressional elections. The chief subject of controversy in relation to this measure was as to whether publication should be made both before and after election or after election alone. Even with the anti-election publication eliminated the measure is still felt to be a step in the right direction.

Two More Stars.
The passage of the statehood bill gives general satisfaction. The only subject of serious dispute in this measure related to the qualification of voters in Arizona. It is certain that the two new states will be in the Union before the election of 1912.

A Virtual Tariff Commission.
The appropriation for the tariff board gives assurance that the cost of production at home and abroad will be investigated and that a report of the findings will be laid before the president and through him go to congress. The importance of this step cannot be overrated. It is likely not only to lead to a permanent tariff commission, but to further tariff revision in the near future.

Against Stock Exchange Gambling.
The passage by the house of the bill prohibiting gambling in cotton futures brings this measure before the senate at the beginning of the short session and may open the way to a general law against all forms of stock exchange gambling.

A Quartet of Investigations.
The session saw three real investigations—that of high prices, that into the Balfinger case and that into the election of Senator Lorimer. The report on high prices ascribed the cause to many things, industrial combinations being among the number. In the Balfinger case it is understood that the report will be given to the country before election. The Lorimer investigation will go on during the recess and will be reported to the short session. In the closing hours of this session Senator Gore of Oklahoma made sensational charges of attempted bribery of himself in an Indian claims case and involved present members of the house and the senate and a former senator from Nebraska and one from Kansas. All of these were unnamed, but it was promised that the names would be given to an investigating committee.

Talking a Bill to Death.
The filibuster in both houses against the Appalachian forest preserve was the one unpleasant incident in the close of one of the most notable and fruitful sessions of congress held in recent years. Yet the event was by no means novel. Scarcely a session goes by that some important bill is not killed by a filibuster in the closing hours.

A WEAK WOMAN AND HER STORY

In Floral, Ark., Lives a Lady Who Feels That Her Strength Was Restored by Cardui.

Floral, Ark.—"I must speak a good word for Cardui," writes Mrs. Viola Baker, of this place.
"About a month ago I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my housework."
"My husband bought me one bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic. I took it according to directions and now I am in good health."
"I think Cardui is a fine tonic for weak women."
And you are not the only lady who thinks so, Mrs. Baker.
Thousands, like you, have written to tell of the wonderful benefit Cardui has been to them.
Cardui contains no minerals, or other powerful drugs. It contains no glycerin or other mawkish-tasting ingredients.
It is just a pure, natural extract, of natural vegetable herbs, that have been found to regulate the womanly functions and strengthen the female system.
All druggists sell Cardui.
See yours about it.

When Our Doors Open In the Morning

The Interesting Story of How a Man Conceived and Worked Out a New Idea in Sewing Machines

BY V. M. JOHNSON

ABOUT ten years ago a Chicago man, William C. Free, became firmly convinced that the time was ripe for a new type of family sewing machine. Fortunately, he was progressive—there was no trace of bigotry or prejudice in his make up. He was a thoroughgoing sewing machine man, an experienced designer, and he knew that there was no completely perfect machine on the market. He knew that for twenty-five years no improvements of movement had been made in sewing machines.

Unlike all others in the field, he was not content to follow the policy of "Let well enough alone." His ambition—his progressiveness, spurred him on to something better. "This new machine," said he, "must not only be a good machine, there are many such, it must be the perfect machine."

Then came the question—of what should the improvement consist—where to begin and where to leave off? Who will ever realize the thought given over to the answer of this question, the sleepless nights endured—the days of study for remember, this man was attempting to do what no other man or set of men had done since Elias Howe had first invented the sewing machine?

As if by inspiration it came to him "Why not find out what the people want—what they actually need to make the sewing machine more convenient—more handy to operate—to give perfect sewing?" This was the answer—simple in the extreme, but as he afterwards discovered, entailing an enormous amount of toil, thought and expense.

He called in his associates, among whom were some of the best sewing machine men in the country, and there followed a period of investigation—a search such as has never been equalled for thoroughness and completeness. They went to the bottom of the subject.

They went to the home and talked with the housewife.

They interviewed sewing machine salesmen and agents.

They discussed the matter with the highest officials of sewing machine manufacturers.

They questioned shop superintendents and foremen and debated it with the man on the bench.

They gathered together a library consisting of every piece of sewing machine literature in existence, including the complete patent records on the subject.

They called conventions of experienced sewing machine men, where these points and their merits were thoroughly discussed, and their value determined.

After this vast amount of information was summed up it stood in briefs as follows:

Of all the good machines, each had some particular points of advantage not possessed by other machines. And likewise each machine with these good points was also the possessor of a great many bad points. This was proven conclusively—there was not one sewing machine in the world which approached perfection.

One machine was found to be light running, but on the other hand it was very complicated and difficult to operate.

Another would show certain advantages in the shuttle, but so on down the list.

There was no guess work about this. They dug deep, and after their foundation was laid they were ready to build—from the bottom up.

The first step was the elimination of all the bad points.

These, with no ceremony, were relegated to the scrap heap.

Work was then begun on all the good points selected from good machines the world over.

They took the best feed there was and improved it.

They took the best shuttle and improved it.

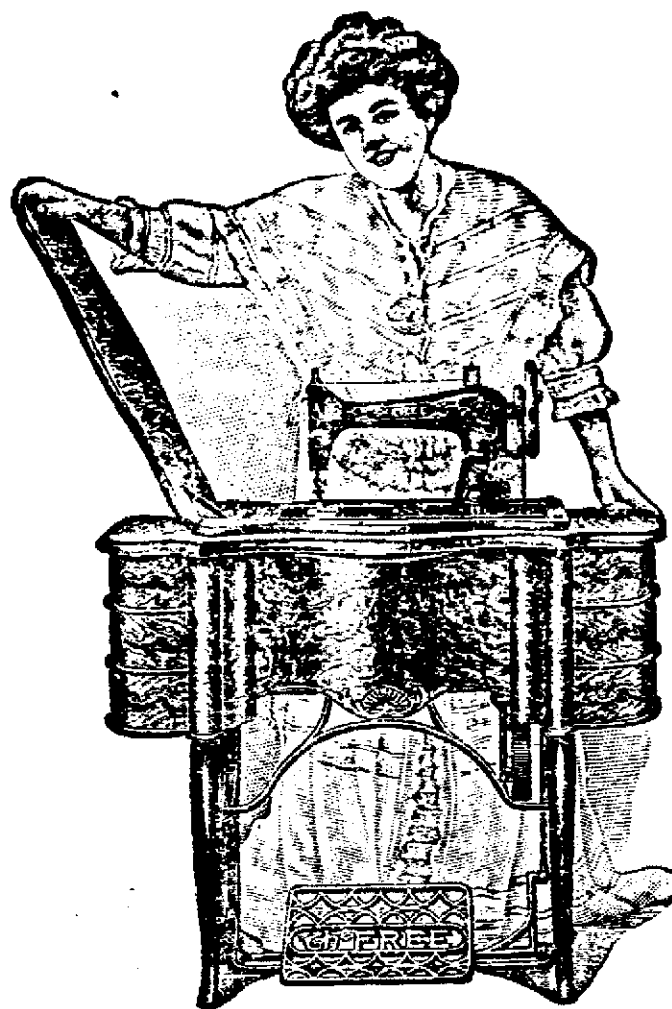

They took the best stand on the market and improved it.

And so when the work was completed there was an absolutely perfect machine—and that one. The FREE—as they call it, with all the good points of all machines—with not a single bad one—a machine that is admitted by housewife, merchant, salesman and sewing machine man, to be superior to any machine ever marketed.

COSHOCTON TO CELEBRATE 4TH OF JULY

Thomas O'Donnell and James E. Hagan, two of Coshocton's hustling young business men, were in the city Wednesday, boosting the big Fourth of July celebration to occur in that city under the auspices of the Elks.

Messrs. O'Donnell and Hagan were enthusiastic as to the outcome of the celebration. "Speaking of crowds," said the former, "we are going to have the largest in the city's history. You know the Elks never do things by halves, and, assisted by the citizens of our hustling city, we are going to give all visitors the time of their lives."

"We have engaged the famous Bauer's military band of 20 pieces from Zanesville, Stewart & Raymond's Lady Band, of Oil City, Pa., and our own Coshocton Imperial Band of 20 pieces. There is going to be one of the best daylight and evening fireworks displays ever seen in Central Ohio. The committee has expended $1400 for explosives and they are now on the ground, the outfit weighing 1100 pounds. We are going to burn up some powder, and don't you forget it."

Mr. Hagan informed the Advocate that there would be the best industrial and fantastic parades ever seen in Coshocton. He said they would also have five trotting and pacing races, automobile races and many other forms of amusements. The people of Newark and Licking county are extended a cordial invitation to visit Coshocton and help celebrate the glorious Fourth.
